ADVISORY OPINION FROM NOVEMBER 21, 2022

The Ethics Commission considered a request from a QAC Planning Commission member for an Advisory Opinion regarding whether the member had a conflict of interest voting on a specific matter before the Commission solely due to the of owning certain real property.

Based on the facts that were provided, the Ethics Commission determined that the Planning Commission Member did not have a conflict of interest under County Ethics Code §8-11, in voting on the matter in question purely as a result of his owning certain identified real estate.
