Advisory Opinion Issued on September 17, 2007

A member of the Queen Anne's County Ethics Commission does not have a conflict of interest, or the appearance of conflict, with being a Board member for Community Mediation Upper Shore (CMUS). The member of the Board of CMUS is not involved in the budget or any requests for government grants or funding, does not receive any compensation for Board service, and does not have any financial interest in or benefits with CMUS. Further, as a member of the Ethics Commission, he does not have any duties or responsibilities directly or indirectly related to County finances, County funding for private endeavors, such as CMUS; nor does his volunteer County position provide him with any special access to those who do have funding responsibilities.
